

PREPARING THE NEXT GENERATION OF ARTS ADMINISTRATORS

SOTHEBY'S
INSTITUTE
OF ART-LA
+
GETTY FOUNDATION
MULTICULTURAL
UNDERGRADUATE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

SOTHEBY'S INSTITUTE OF ART

Sotheby's Institute of Art-LA at Claremont Graduate University offers Master's Degrees in Arts Management and Art Business. Students are offered a rigorous education in the creation, management, and leadership of arts organizations and initiatives, with unparalleled access to LA's dynamic cultural institutions and arts professionals.

Sotheby's
INSTITUTE OF ART

SOTHEBYSINSTITUTE.COM/LA

MEET ALUMNI

BETTY AVILA | '07 Getty, '12 Arts Management

Co-Director, Self Help Graphics & Art

"I am a fierce advocate of the arts as a tool for social change, for healing, for educating and I'm an advocate for cultural equity. The most gratifying aspect of my work is leveraging that power of art to collaborate and build with peers and colleagues across sectors and across the geographies and demographics of the City and County of Los Angeles."

ERIKA HIRUGAMI | '14 Getty, '16 Art Business

Founder & CEO of CuratorLove

"I want to create an art world that is all-inclusive in which underrepresented artists (Females, POC, LGBTQ, and especially Latinx) enjoy the same level of success, value, sustainability and resources afforded to their contemporary blue-chip counterparts."

DEB MORALES | '17 Getty, '17 Arts Management

Los Angeles County Arts Commission, Arts Education Collective

"My professional experience has shown me firsthand that when young people (of any discipline) are given opportunities to develop their passions and pursue paths that inspire them, they are more likely to thrive in various aspects of life."

MIRANDA YNEZ | '15 Getty, '17 Arts Management

Coordinator, Avenue 50 Studio

"I work in the Arts because I believe in the transformative power the Arts can bring in underserved communities and I know first hand that as a womxn of color, I address the lack of equity in professional art administration space simply by reclaiming it."

